

Saint Louis University School of Law
Speaker Copyright Release Form

The School of Law recording policy is to disseminate and preserve lectures, presentations and events sponsored by the School and affiliated organizations.

All recordings are cataloged, archived and transferred to an electronic media file. Those recordings that are for law school only viewing will be stored on a secured server. All general public events with signed release forms may be broadcast via the internet for public viewing on a video archive "webcast" portion of the School of Law's Web site. Recordings, or excerpts from them, including derivative works, may also be used for other purposes including, but not limited to, continuing legal education materials. The recordings may be reproduced in copies or in derivative works, and may be distributed, performed or displayed as required or necessary for such purposes.

A contributor's presentation may be a contribution to a collective work, as defined in 17 U.S.C. 101 and 201c. As such, Saint Louis University School of Law has the right to reproduce and distribute your contribution as part of the collective work.

Contributors grant Saint Louis University School of Law a non-exclusive license to:

- a. transfer or grant sub-licenses to others so that the presentation may be broadcast, distributed, edited or reproduced in any form or media including, but not limited to, audio tape, video tape, DVD, the internet, podcast, radio, or satellite.
- b. reproduce or distribute such contributions or presentations for archival or other purposes.

Subject to rights granted to Saint Louis University School of Law in this release, contributors retain all other rights to his or her work and presentations. Should a contributor publish or give permission to publish this presentation at a later date, however, he or she shall indicate that the work was produced as part of that specific event in which it was presented.
